Is it not therefore strange that Mr. Bishop should take advantage of Mr. Gowen's absence to detract (?) from the noble work he has left behind him. Here is gross inconsistency. Bitterer words than those used by one professing Christian against another could scarcely be coined. I shall not repeat them here since no good to Christ's work would ensue. In consequence of those remarks, I saw Mr. Gowen, and I have his word that on more than one occasion he had challenged them to prove or bring forward one single instance where he had proselytized among Mr. Damon's flock. I am told that our most elegant royal palm will not flourish in the sandy soil of the park. I am truly sorry for this, but there is the date palm. Who has not admired the avenue at the Queen's Hospital ? With this in mind, imagine an avenue from the bridge to Mr. Campbell's. It would equal the far-famed avenue of royal palms in Rio Janeiro. ## Dr. Kimball's Removal.

MR. EDITOR. stampeded like a flock of sheep. The statements made by Kalua and others that the Board had disobeyed the orders of the House, and treated that honorable body with disrespect were so entirely without foundation that no attempt was made to cite a single fact in their support. The House had never issued any orders of any kind to the Board or its President, and consequently none could have been disregarded or disobeyed. The Legislature had simply asked, through the Minister of the Interior, certain questions, all of which had respectfully. In the matters in controversy with Dr. Lutz and Sister Rose the Board was and always had been unanimous; the President was simply carrying out the policy and instructions of the Board. The Ministers also knew and did not attempt to question that the Board was right. They also knew that one of their own number, the Attorney-General, was a member of the Board and in full accord with the President and the other members. A claim of ignorance on these points would have been incredible or inexcusable. Yet so completely had considerations of temporary expediency got the better of all higher incidentally, censured one of their own number who was not present, and who had therefore no oppor-

THAT MASS MEETING.

About Two Hundred and Fifty Persons Assemble on Palace Square .- Very

Posters around town announced a mass meeting at Palace Square Tuesday P.M. with regard to the calling of a constitutional convention. It was held, and about two hundred and fifty people, including women and boys, assembled. It looked as if they were there more out of curiosity than anything else. There were ten speakers, but very little enthusiasm was aroused among those thusiasm was aroused among those present. If it had not been for a few amusing remarks by Wm. White at the tail end, it would have been a very tame meeting.

James Quinn a kind of opened the meeting, but he was very brief. An alarm of fire scattered the people somewhat. J. Kaulia was called on to speak, and then J. M. Kaneakua. He said the Legislature was the only power that could call a constitutional convention. If they could change the constitution in America, why not in Hawaii? Messrs. J. K. Kaunamano and L. P. Kanealii made remarks in Hawaiian which were not the sold at public auction, on account of the breaction of the sold at public auction, on account of the breaction of the sold at public auction, on account of the breaction of the sold at public auction, on account of the breaction of the sold at public auction, on account of the breaction of the sold at public auction, on account of the breaction of the sold at public auction, on account of the breaction of the sold at public auction, on account of the breaction of commendency described as follows:

John E. Bush said they proposed to have a new constitution, one that every man, woman and child (?) in the Kingdom had a voice in. He would like to see the judge who could base his opinion on the present illegal constitution. [A voice-You were elected under it.] It was framed by a handful of men, a lot of robbers, who have robbed you of your rights. They ought to be hung everyone of them. It was framed by a handful of missionary lawyers. These men are lousy with dollars and that is all they care about. We want to get a new constitution in a legitimate way. It would not be right to give any power back to the King, and he should not have anything to do with votes.

Jos. Nawahi said Moses went through the Red Sea and came out all right. If this did not come in the Legislature there would be something outside. The opinion would grow until they succeeded. It was the Dept. foreman that turned in the false alarm of fire, so as to take people away from the meeting. With regard to the Mechanics Union that had called the meeting, Noah was the first mechanic. He helped to save the world. If it had not been for that large ship we would not have been here to-night.
